

One Sahaptan

American People, Which is more important, oil at $40 a barrel or knowing when killing is murder? Or maybe your portfolio is up 20 percent? Or could all religions have one definition? Now, is there a significant difference between education and training? Which is more important? Where is the safest place in society to raise children? A fellow named Andrew Bacevich just released his book Washington Rules: Americas Path to Permanent War. He is so correct. One Sahaptan is a description of a lifestyle outside of corporate capitalism, outside of permanent war, and is told with many short stories and no one plot. Read One Sahaptan slowly. Alternatives will appear.

About the Author: L. Pearne Robbins is a retired structural engineer who lives in Seattle. At age 90, he is the father of six, and is motivated to write so he can expose how corporations are killing people, places, freedom, and incentive. Publishers Web site:
